

Authors and Historians

ACROSS

- 7 This art historian and academic spoke to us on Robert Dudley and is also an expert on Nicholas Hilliard.
- 9 This teacher of creative writing and Tudor Life magazine contributor has written novels on Thomas Wyatt, Catherine Carey and Catherine of Aragon.
- 12 This military historian has spoken to us on the Great Siege of Malta, the Battle of Flodden, and Tudor Cambridge.
- 15 This historian spoke to us on Tudor Women and the Boleyn family, and is the author of books on Bessie Blount, Anne Boleyn, Jane Seymour, Anne of Cleves, Catherine Parr, and Margaret Beaufort, among others.
- 16 Nathen Amin has spoken to us on Henry VII and this important family.
- 17 Caroline Angus, who has spoken to us on Thomas Cromwell, is the author of this series of books.
- 18 A regular contributor to Tudor Life Magazine who is the author of the Sebastian Foxley Medieval murder mysteries as well as non-fiction books on history.

DOWN

- 1 This historian has written books on Catherine Howard and

- the Titanic, among others, and is also editor of our magazine, Tudor Life.
- 2 This speaker wrote the bestselling Tudor Trilogy as well as novels on Charles Brandon, Mary Tudor and Katherine Willoughby.
- 3 This historian, who spoke to us on Thomas and George Boleyn, has also written a book on Eustace Chapuys.
- 4 Sir Francis Bryan, Henry VIII's notorious ambassador, was the subject of this author's latest talk.
- 5 This French historian spoke to us on Elizabeth I and the French.
- 6 Sarah Bryson talked to us recently about this important family.
- 8 This author has co-written books on places associated with Henry VIII's six wives and spoke to us on Anne Boleyn's early life and Tudor progresses.
- 10 This historian, who spoke to us on Henry VIII and his men, is also joint Chief Curator for Historic Royal Palaces.
- 11 This author founded the Tudor Society in 2014.
- 13 This Ricardian historian has spoken to us on the Princes in the Tower and the year 1483.
- 14 This historian is Head of Medieval Records at the National Archives and author of books on Henry VII and Arthur Tudor.

Authors and Historians

